MCP: 36th Street Family Newsletter

December 4, 2018

We are celebrating our opportunities this week. Our TRECK value of RESPECT is focusing on showing gratitude for our opportunities. We are delving into identifying opportunities we are grateful for and how showing gratitude for opportunities opens us up to even greater opportunities in life. Our main focus is on the opportunity for our education. We encourage our scholars to think about how education is an opportunity and how once they have and show gratitude for the education being provided, their futures will lead them to amazing places. Please continue to talk with your child about how it is their actions, much more often than their words, that truly communicate their gratitude and work with them to understand how gratitude for opportunities is a very important part of living the mission of "college and beyond".

FLYing In Community

Each week we spend Tuesday, Thursday and Friday mornings focused on Proactivity in the forms of Mindfulness, Community Circles and Proactivity lessons. On the days our classrooms do Community Circles, the scholars sit in a Circle and build community by answering questions that allow each member of the community to learn more about one another. Through Community Circles, scholars help one another, celebrate one another and build relationships that help them throughout the years. Friday, the Deans of Students held school wide Community Circles to continue to build on the importance of working together as a team and a family and the importance of lifting one another higher- we are showing gratitude for those around us.

Attendance/Tardies

It is very important that our scholars are present at school each day and on time. We value every moment of the day as each moment is spent building both academic mastery and excellence in character. Scholars arriving after 8:30 in the morning for the third time in a quarter, without notification to the office by 8:15, will not be allowed in school to maintain the focus of other scholars. Chronic arrivals after 8:30 will be asked to meet with the Principal and Dean of Students prior to the scholar returning to class so a plan can be established to ensure arrival times before 8:30. Milwaukee Prep uses the time between 8:00 and 8:45 to focus on character- this time is extremely important and valuable in the growth of the scholar as a whole. Please make sure that your scholar(s) are arriving to school each day on time. Thank you. If you have questions, please contact Ms. Foster or refer to the attendance section of the Family Handbook which can be located on the school website.
